

Trump Supporter's Poem

Dear President Trump,

I have something to offer, can you hear me?

I created a project and believe it will help.

I am willing to talk, to educate, to the best of my knowledge.

I would love to sing a song, to share some glory.

Yes, I have a story, it may make you cry or make you cheer.

I have some advice, its goal to refine. I respect your authority.

I have an encouragement, its goal to keep you going, maybe even start you running.

One of the best gifts I have to offer is a solution, is there anywhere I can send it?

And if you can't hear me right now, I will continue to press on.

Yes, this work can sometimes be lonely, but knowing our Father is watching makes all the difference.
